Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 14,15,28,29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sjoblom [US 2004/0049779] in view of Hirsch [US 2003/0181160].

Regarding claims 14,28 Sjoblom discloses all the limitations as claimed. However, he fails to disclose a method comprising encoding at least a portion of the associating data into the media stream and decoding in the user equipment, the at least a portion of the associating data from the media stream.

Hirsch, in the same field of endeavor, teaches a method comprising encoding at least a portion of the associating data into the media stream and decoding in the user equipment, the at least a portion of the associating data from the media stream. See paragraphs 19-22

Therefore it would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the above teachings of Hirsch to Sjoblom in order to properly decode the scrambled broadcast transmission.

Regarding claim 15,29 Hirsch further teaches a method comprising exchanging associating data between the media receiver and the user terminal. See Fig. 3 associating data between the user terminal (g06-) and the media receiver (--2-08-).
